PART 1 · MODULE A

Are you ready? Choosing a niche and an offer

Narrow offers are easier to sell than broad ones.

A1. Readiness check

- I can deliver one service end to end.
- I have at least one portfolio project with a before-and-after.
- I can reply to clients within one working day.
- I understand the basic tax and registration rules where I live (check official sources).

A2. Offer formula

I help [specific customer] get [specific result] with [your service], delivered in [time].

Example: I help small shops get clean monthly books, delivered by the 5th.

A3. Three offers

Offer	Scope	Why
Starter	One small deliverable	Low risk first project
Standard	Full service, set revisions	Your main offer
Retainer	Monthly hours or tasks	Steady work

Part of Master Freelancing: Freelance Business and Agency Development. Back to the chapter list on skillnavora.in · Open the full textbook. Official links in this chapter were not checked live; confirm before relying on them.