PART 1 · MODULE B

Marketplaces compared

Where freelancers find clients, and how to choose.

Platform	Model	Official site (not checked live)
Upwork	Project and hourly marketplace	www.upwork.com
Fiverr	Packaged services (gigs)	www.fiverr.com
Freelancer	Contests and projects	www.freelancer.com
Toptal	Screened talent network	www.toptal.com
PeoplePerHour	Hourly and fixed offers	www.peopleperhour.com
Contra	Portfolio and projects	contra.com
LinkedIn Services	Services listing	www.linkedin.com
Internshala	Internships and entry jobs (India)	internshala.com
Truelancer	Freelance marketplace (India)	www.truelancer.com

B1. Before you join any platform

- Read the current fee page and terms on the official site.
- Note how payments, withdrawals and currency conversion work.
- Keep communication and payment on the platform where its terms require it.
- Never pay to receive work; ignore offers that ask for a fee, a deposit or bank details before a contract.

SCAM SIGNS

A fake cheque you are asked to deposit, a 'training fee', a request to move to a private chat before the contract, an unrealistic pay offer for simple work, or a link that asks you to log in on a look-alike page.

VERIFICATION NOTE

Marketplace fees, rules, tax rates and legal requirements change and differ by country. This book gives frameworks and checklists, not legal, tax or financial advice. Official links were not checked live in this draft; confirm every figure on the official site or with a qualified professional. All prices in examples are illustrative.

Part of Master Freelancing: Freelance Business and Agency Development. Back to the chapter list on skillnavora.in · Open the full textbook. Official links in this chapter were not checked live; confirm before relying on them.