PART 1 · MODULE C

Profile, portfolio, proposals and outreach

How to be found and how to reply.

C1. Profile checklist

- Headline with your offer, not your job title.
- First two lines state who you help and the result.
- Three portfolio items with problem, action, result.
- Clear process and delivery time.
- Honest reviews and testimonials only.

C2. Portfolio case study format

Problem, what you did, tools, result (use a real number or say 'practice project'), and a link to the work.

C3. Proposal template

TEXT

```
Hello [Name],

I read your brief about [project]. The main goal seems to be [goal].

How I would do it:
1. [Step one]
2. [Step two]
3. [Step three]

Similar work: [link to one relevant sample].
Time: [days]. Price: [amount] for [scope], including [number] revisions.

Two questions so I can start well:
- [Question one]
- [Question two]

Thank you,
[Your name]
```

C4. Cold outreach template

TEXT

```
Subject: A quick idea for [business]

Hi [Name],

I noticed [specific observation about their business].
I help [type of business] with [result]. For example, [one short proof].

Would a short plan for [business] be useful? I can send it this week.

[Your name]
```

OUTREACH RULES

Follow the email and messaging consent rules where you and the recipient live. Send to businesses with a relevant need, be honest, give an easy way to opt out, and never send bulk unsolicited messages.

Part of Master Freelancing: Freelance Business and Agency Development. Back to the chapter list on skillnavora.in · Open the full textbook. Official links in this chapter were not checked live; confirm before relying on them.