PART 1 · MODULE E

Contracts, scope and change requests

Write down what was agreed.

E1. What a freelance contract should cover

- Parties and contact details.
- Scope, deliverables and what is excluded.
- Price, deposit, milestones and payment dates.
- Revisions included and cost of extra ones.
- Timeline and what the client must provide.
- Ownership of the work and when it transfers (usually on full payment).
- Confidentiality.
- Termination and kill fee.
- Late payment terms.
- Governing law and how disputes are handled.

NOT LEGAL ADVICE

Use a contract template reviewed by a qualified lawyer in your country, or the platform's own terms. This list is a checklist for what to ask about, not a contract.

E2. Scope-change rule

Anything outside the written scope gets a short written change request with price and time before work starts.

Part of Master Freelancing: Freelance Business and Agency Development. Back to the chapter list on skillnavora.in · Open the full textbook. Official links in this chapter were not checked live; confirm before relying on them.